SUMMARY

As a skilled Frontend Web Developer,

I combine a passion for design and a strong command of modern web technologies to create engaging and user-friendly websites.

With 2+ years of experience in the industry, I excel in translating client requirements into visually appealing web solutions.

Proficient in HTML, CSS, JavaScript, and various frontend frameworks and Libraries,

I am dedicated to delivering pixel-perfect designs and ensuring seamless user experiences.

My expertise includes optimizing websites for performance, accessibility, and cross-browser compatibility, along with a commitment to staying updated with emerging industry trends and best practices.

I am driven to contribute my creative and technical talents to deliver high-quality web solutions that exceed client expectations.
